CAN YOU ANSWER?

Should it be necessary to bribe you to make selections of Easter dress requisites before the ante-Easter rush commences? Should we have to ask you $1.35 instead of $1.50 for "Palais Royal" Kid Gloves, when they can be tried on with more satisfaction now than later? Should we have to quote special prices for your Easter Dress, Hat, Neckwear and Hose before the best are picked out?

History repeats itself: By some queer phase of human nature the "rush" for supplies commences the Thursday before Easter Sunday. We know the 485 clerks of the Palais Royal will be insufficient during these coming days. We have been quoting special prices to induce shopping before then. The list of these prices is published this evening for the last time—they will be discontinued tomorrow evening with the closing of the store.
